

LITERACY WORKSHEET

Figurative Language- Similes

Directions: Finish each simile using a phrase from the list below. If your community or culture uses some that are different than the ones you see in the box, then you may use one of your own. The first one is completed for you.

Hint:

Figurative language is used by writers to make their writing more colorful, enjoyable and keep the interest of the reader. One form of figurative language is the simile.

Similes compare two things using the words “like” or “as”.
